Erin Robinson completed her undergraduate studies at Messiah College in 2002, earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology with an emphasis in Child Welfare and Family Studies. In 2006, she graduated from the University of Maryland, Baltimore School of Social Work with her Master of Social Work degree. She is a Licensed Certified Social Worker/Clinical in the state of Maryland. Currently, Erin is a full-time clinical social worker at a nonpublic school in Baltimore City and works with children with a variety of special needs ranging in ages from 6 to 21. She also has experience working in the social services and private practice arenas and recently joined the Learning and Therapy Corner.

Erin has over 15 years of experience working with children and their families as a Licensed Social Worker. She has an extensive background working with children and adolescents with disabilities, including Autism and other mental health diagnoses. Erin is MSDE certified and is certified in First Aid, CPR and Crisis Prevention Intervention (CPI). She is also certified to provide clinical supervision and is certified in TF-CBT and Play Therapy. She loves helping children and their families develop a range of prosocial communication and coping skills through fun and creative methods. She is a proud dog mom to an almost two year old Boston Terrier named Gus who is a certified Therapy dog with the Pets on Wheels organization.
