Melissa Ward

Music Therapist - Board Certified

CBMT Certificate Number: 08350

Contact: mward@lthcorner.com

Melissa received her degree from Elizabethtown College in 2006, well-known for their sound and well-rounded music therapy program. Melissa completed her internship at Kennedy Krieger School, which is part of an institute known throughout the world for their work with individuals with disabilities.

She obtained her credentials, MT-BC (Music Therapist - Board Certified) from the Certification Board for Music Therapists which upholds standards that are equal to or above state licensure standards. Through involvement with fundraising for autism research and participation in various autism support groups, Melissa has expanded her work related to autism awareness.

An active member of the American Music Therapy Association, Melissa keeps involved in her profession and continues her education to keep her skills fresh. When not involved with work, Melissa and her husband enjoy spending time with their horses, competing at shows and enjoying trail riding throughout MD and PA. She also continues to enjoy playing the piano which was her main instrument throughout college. Participating in her church choir has also brought Melissa enjoyment when she is not working with clients.
